“With help from SADA, our original go-live date never moved, and we migrated 23,000 users to Google Workspace over a single weekend. The transition was as flawless as it could get, with no disruption to the business. The Monday after migration was quiet. In just under three months, we saw people working differently. Over 94% of users were actively using Google Drive, with over 57,000 hours of Google Meet sessions conducted in one month alone, allowing our employees to collaborate while in the office and on mobile, connecting our global teams.”
